New distributor for Aviation, Aerospace and Military in the USA

Luciol Instruments has signed an agreement with Cotsworks, a company based in Cleveland (OH), for the distribution of its high resolution OTDRs in the aviation, aerospace and military markets in the USA.

Cotsworks manufactures rugged fiber optic components and sells optical test equipment for the commercial and aerospace, military, and industrial markets.

“Cotsworks’ product line and customer base are very well matched to our instruments”, says Bruno Huttner, general manager of Luciol. “Cotsworks will be able to offer complete solutions to our customers in the USA, which will include our LOR-220, custom interface cables and avionic kits when required. This will generate a great synergy for both companies, and ultimately benefit our customers.”
